

He Told Me He Was Leaving You For Good

Why ask me all these questions
Don't you think it's so unfair
You really ought to see him face to face
I know that you've got problems
But who am I to interfere
At times like these it pays to know your place

But you say that you're worried
You've not seen him for some time
And you're scared he may be pulling out
And leaving you behind

Well now listen for a minute
And please try to understand
There are some things you may rather never hear
And I don't want to be the one
Who has to bring you down
Oh no, that's never my idea

But you're the one who came to me
No I didn't come to you
And you want me to be honest
You say, you want to know the truth

Well please, please believe it's not for me
Though heaven knows I love you if I could
Please, please believe he told me this
He told me he is leaving you for good

Take your time and take it easy
Yes I know just how you feel
And I guess that I'd be feeling much the same
But I hope it won't be quite so bad
As you are making out
Cos I hope you'll let me stay to ease the pain

And in every muddy river,
There's a speck of gold somewhere
And now it's in the open
Well it may help to clear the air

So please, please believe it's not for me
Though heaven knows I've loved you for so long
Please, please believe he told me this
He told me that his love for you is gone

Please, please believe its not for me
Though heaven knows I'd love you if I could
Please, please believe he told me this
He told me he is leaving you for good
